

Leanna Cinquanta

Introduction

Dr. Leanna Cinquanta is a revivalist, published author, international motivational speaker and the founder of WIN (We Ignite Nations) based in Denver, Colorado. She and her native teams, working in some of the most difficult and persecuted areas of the world, annually bring Christ's healing grace to thousands and implement innovative ways to sustainably end poverty and child slavery in entire communities. Leanna is a graduate of Fuller Theological Seminary and received Regent University's "Outstanding Graduate" award in completion of her Doctor of Ministry degree. Dr. C. Peter Wagner considered her "the most competent field missiologist" he had ever known.

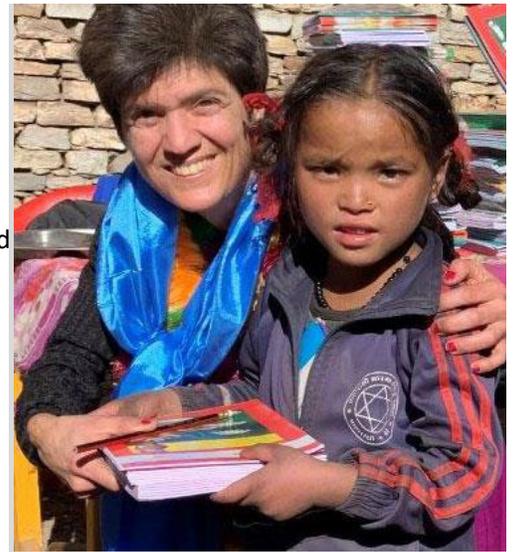

At age 15 Leanna was a self-declared atheist until she experienced a dramatic face-to-face encounter with Jesus. Her unique, faith-boosting salvation testimony has been featured on The 700 Club, TBN, Daystar, God TV and many other platforms. Responding to vivid dreams, in 1996 she forsook a budding equestrian career and set out to bring God's love to a region of the world then known as "the graveyard of Christianity" and the "poisonous hub of human trafficking." In the next two decades, prayer, persistence and persecution along with miracles of healing and deliverance resulted in the once "graveyard" becoming a vineyard of hope and transformation. This is being achieved through Christ-based projects and interventions such as water systems, anti-trafficking rescue and awareness, and sustainable business and educational initiatives.

On account of Christ, Leanna has been in jail, blacklisted from two nations, and miraculously un-blacklisted from one.

A visionary who is always discovering hidden strategies to reveal Christ to today's world, Leanna also has leveraged a little-known method by which she influences millions every year toward Christ with only a few hours of work. She is a motivational speaker and author of the life transformation series "Win-Win Worldview." Firmly grounded in Scripture and enlivened with amazing God-stories from 20 years of pioneering in tough places, her high-energy messages draw listeners to the edge of their seats. Her ministry is an infusion of radical faith, global vision and out-of-the-box strategy equipping participants to influence their communities for good and for God.

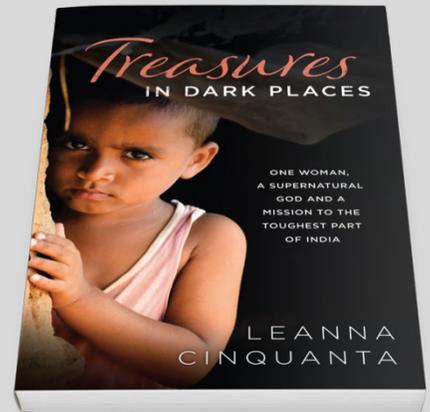

Leanna has taught for YWAM, Exponential, Wagner University, the Perspectives Course and many conferences. Her passion and joy is to equip others into their adventure of impacting the world as ambassadors of Christ and to cultivate collaboration for multiplied impact.

Some of Leanna's current initiatives include: Easter 2024 release of her second book, Your Secret Calling; producing a movie that will impact an entire continent to end child trafficking; ending systemic poverty in more communities and teaching the strategy as a model for others.
